

WILSON SENTIMENT IS STRONG IN TEXAS

Efforts to Deliver State to Harmon May Prove a Dismal Failure.

Austin, Texas, July 29.—Popular and spontaneous sentiment on the part of the masses of the Democracy of Texas promises to upset the well laid plans of certain leaders of the party in this state in regard to instructing delegates to the next national convention. The so-called Democratic organization of the state is pronouncedly in favor of Harmon for president, but the evidence is conclusive that Woodrow Wilson is the choice of the Texas Democracy.

The visit to Texas last fall of Roger C. Sullivan, of Illinois, and his conference in San Antonio with a number of the Democratic leaders of Texas was for the object of lining up the party in this state for Gov. Harmon. Mr. Sullivan was successful in accomplishing his mission, so far as obtaining the pledge of the party organization to the support of Mr. Harmon was concerned, but it now develops that the Democratic leaders of this state are unable to deliver the goods.

The Wilson sentiment has a spontaneity that gives it effectiveness and earnestness. It is not the result of any political promoting scheme. The men who have heretofore been in control of the party's acts and policy in the matter of selecting delegates to the national convention are thoroughly aroused over the prospective failure of the plans as to placing Texas in the Harmon column. As things stand today, there is apparently no reasonable doubt about Texas going for Wilson.

There is a sentiment among some of the Democrats of Texas in favor of W. J. Bryan as the party's candidate in another effort to reach the presidency, but it is generally conceded that he stands no chance of receiving the nomination, and for this reason the men who would most like to see his political ambition in that respect gratified, do not regard him as an available candidate and in most instances they are supporters of Mr. Wilson.

Champ Clark has very little following in this state. He has a few warm political friends here who have made no effort, however, to inaugurate a movement in his behalf. If the Harmon supporters develop enough strength in Texas to justify a real contest for the delegates of the national convention, it will be between that element and the Wilson followers. It is not expected that the men who are now in charge of the Democratic party machinery in this state and who took it upon themselves to pledge the Texas vote to Harmon, will submit to the Wilson element without a fight. The legislature will meet here in special session next Monday. While there is considerable law making that will naturally come up for consideration, it is expected that the senators and representatives will devote no little time to politics.

Mistake in Creation.
A certain skeptic was contending before a minister that the work of the Creator was manifestly imperfect. He pointed out what in his opinion he considered the "noted defects in the human organism, for instance, and thought of better contrivances?"

To his delight there was the frank reply, "Why, yes, I really think I have."

"In what respect?"
"Why," drawled the parson, "you see when I want to shut out anything disagreeable from my sight I can draw down my eyelids and it's all done; but unfortunately I haven't any flaps to my ears."

Free conversation ceased at about that point.—The Christian Guardian.

Alas, the Workingwoman!
"Poor woman! She works hard all day and then she's up nearly all night with the babies."

"What's the matter with her husband? Why doesn't he help her?"
"Oh, he puts in all his time agitating for an eight-hour day for the workingman."—Catholic Standard and Times.

An English Fish Story.
Brown had returned from a fishing expedition and after partaking of a most welcome dinner was relating some of his fishing experiences.

"Last year," said he, "while fishing for pike I dropped half a sovereign. I went to the same place this year, and after my line had been cast a few minutes I felt a terrific pull. Eventually I landed a fine pike, which had swallowed the hook, and on cutting it open to release the hook, to my amazement—"

"Ah," said his friends, "you found a half sovereign."

"Oh, no," replied Brown. "I found 5s. 6d. in silver and threepence in copper."

"Well, what became of the other threepence?" queried his friends.

"I suppose the pike paid that to go through the lock," answered Brown.—London Tatler.

Albanian Refugees Fleeing From Slaughter By Turks

Albanian refugees fleeing from Turkish slaughter, taking refuge in caves. This photograph shows a party of shepherds and their families along the river. Zieme, near Podgoritz, Montenegro. Reports that have reached London and the continent of recent atrocities committed by the Turkish troops have resulted in calling attention to the urgency of the state of affairs in Albania. The Turkish treatment of the Albanians is exciting considerable uneasiness in political and diplomatic circles in Great Britain and all the leading capitals of Europe.

MEXICAN IS ARRESTED ON CHARGE OF THEFT

Emilio Flores was arrested Friday afternoon and lodged in the city jail on the charge of theft under $50.

It is alleged that a man went into a drug store on South El Paso street and took two clocks. He was observed by clerks in the store, who called to him, but he ran. A description was furnished the police, and later Flores was arrested by one of the local detectives.

Saturday morning one of the employees of the store identified Flores as the man who had taken the clocks and a complaint was filed with the county attorney, Flores being transferred to the county jail to await hearing.

L. U. Morris, superintendent of the El Paso-Tucson division of the Southwestern, arrived in the city on Friday.

FINDS DIAMOND RING IN BOOK

ADDRESSED TO EL PASOAN

St. Louis, Mo., July 29.—Examining "At the Top of the Continent," written by Dr. P. A. Cook, customs agent Glatie, whose duty it is to inspect foreign mail bound for the southwest, found a diamond ring. The book was addressed to J. C. Cruger, El Paso, Texas, and bore the notation, "From Mrs. Cruger, Liege, Brussels."

The name J. C. Cruger does not appear in the El Paso city directory.

BIDS OPENED FOR CABLEWAYS AT DAM

Award, However, Has Not Been Made by Reclamation Service.

Washington, D. C., July 29.—Bids have been opened, but no award announced for three cableways to be used in excavating at the site of the Elephant Butte dam. The bids were opened at the office of the reclamation service in this city, and the name of the successful bidder is looked for daily.

The span to be covered by the cables in 1420 feet, and the cable will rest on a tower 80 feet high at one end and 120 feet high at the other. A grab bucket, weighing 10,000 pounds and with capacity of three cubic yards of earth at each load will be operated on the cable, the United States to furnish the buckets. The cable will be subjected to an average load of eight tons, but must be tested to sustain a maximum of 15 tons.

The buckets will make a speed of 200 feet a minute and will be operated by electricity. The main carrying cable must be 2 1/2 inches in thickness and the hoisting and conveying cables must be 3-4 of an inch thick.

The reclamation service is also in the market for an excavating machine to be used in excavating the material to be carried in the buckets on the cable.

ALFALFA SEED CROP AT MALAGA IS PROMISING

Malaga, N. M., July 29.—The alfalfa seed crop which looked doubtful the first of the month now gives every indication of being a bumper crop and farmers are preparing to cut this week.

C. R. Helm has a force of men packing peaches in his orchard. A large shipment of choice Elbertas was made to New York last week.

Prof. F. M. Hatfield and wife have gone to El Paso for a month's visit before removing to their new home at Carlsbad.

O. C. Epperson has disposed of his farm here and moved with his family to El Paso, where he has purchased the International shoeing shop.

Malaga was visited by a severe wind and rain storm which did some damage particularly to the peach crop.

BABY BOY, IN PLAY SHOOT DADDY DEAD.
Kansas City, Mo., July 29.—"Hold up your hands," daddy, or I'll shoot!" called a seven-year-old Ernest Spillman from behind the dining room door as the father, Carl Spillman, a member of the Kansas City, Kan., fire department entered his home. Before the father had time to turn a small rifle in the boy's hands was discharged and the father fell dead. Ernest did not know the gun was loaded.

Yes We Did

Reduce the price of Milk to 10c per quart, and we are willing to tell the readers of The Herald

The Reason Why We Did It

Our Mr. Smith is interested in two of the largest alfalfa ranches in the valley. We wish to feed the product of those ranches to dairy cows and turn it into

Nice, Rich Milk

To do this we are compelled to increase our trade. We know we have the best milk in the city and if you will drive down the valley to our grand new dairy we will convince you that it is the best milk. If you will study up on the handling of milk and visit the other dairies you will learn that is that which we produce and treat in accordance with scientific principles. The best authorities all agree that the only milk that is safe

The Only Safe Milk

Is Pasteurized Milk

It only costs 10c per quart, the same price you pay for milk produced under unfavorable circumstances and not treated by modern appliances.

CROP REPORT OF CARLSBAD PROJECT

More Than 7000 Acres in Alfalfa, Cotton 4000; Corn and Sorghum 1911.

Washington, D. C., July 29.—According to reports received here by the reclamation service, there are 7114 acres in alfalfa under the Carlsbad, N. M., project in the Pecos valley. There are also 1911 acres of indian corn and sorghum; 522 acres of orchards, 4042 acres of cotton, and 324 acres in miscellaneous crops. This is the result announced following the midsummer crop census taken by the officers of the service.

Heavy rains visited the project during the past month. A small flood in the vicinity of Casa Draw damaged the canal banks and necessitated the placing of about 600 cubic yards of earth to repair the damage.

On June 11, water was turned out of the canal for 12 days to kill the moss and weeds. George B. Richardson, geologist, visited the project in June to investigate a third reservoir site, as proposed by the water users' association. No report has as yet been received from him.

Over 70 cars of alfalfa had been shipped up to July 1, and a considerable quantity has been stored by the farmers. The cotton crop is looking dead. Ernest did not know the gun was loaded.
